

Abstract of the disclosure

A guitar assembly comprised of a neck, a string disposed on said neck, and a resonator. The neck is disposed within and attached to the resonator. The string is disposed on the neck, a portion of the string is disposed within the resonator, and a portion of the string extends through the resonator. At least three chromatic frets are disposed on the neck.